The people of Indiana know and appreciate Mr. BRIGHT, and the old Indianapolis junto, with its new adjuncts, can rail away at him until they weary at their labor. He, and his friends for him, court their censure rather than their praise. Their comments upon his late excellent letter to the Democratic Central Committee, are in keeping and character with their past course of conduct toward Mr. BRIGHT. He touched these Abolition disunionists in a sensitive point, therefore their wrath is unmeasured
